STRATEGIC THINKING

1. Strategic®

What Is Strategic?

People with strong Strategic talents can sort through the clutter to find the best route. You can't teach this skill. It is a distinct way of thinking — a unique perspective on the world at large. This outlook allows them to see patterns where others see complexity. Mindful of these patterns, they envision alternative scenarios, always asking, "What if this happened?" This recurring question helps them see, plan and prepare for future situations. They see a way when others assume there is no way. Armed with this strategy, they move forward.

Why Your Strategic Is Unique

Instinctively, you demonstrate an ease with language. You effortlessly verbalize your thoughts. You relish the opportunity to share your insights. You derive pleasure from actively participating in conversations when group members propose ideas, seek solutions, or debate issues.

Chances are good that you select the right combination of words to convey your ideas or feelings. In the middle of discussions, your vocabulary provides you with precise phrases and terminology. You probably express yourself with ease and grace.

Driven by your talents, you usually identify problems others fail to notice. You repeatedly create solutions and find the right answers. You yearn to improve things about yourself, other people, or situations. You are drawn to classes, books, or activities that promise to give you the skills and knowledge you seek.

It's very likely that you work diligently to invent alternative courses of action. You notice new as well as unusual configurations in facts, evidence, or data. Others, however, can see only separate, unrelated bits of information. You are fascinated by problems that puzzle, confound, or frustrate most people.

Because of your strengths, you notice that multiple solutions to nagging problems automatically pop into your mind. You usually study each option from many different angles. After carefully evaluating the entire situation, you likely choose the alternative that makes the most sense. Why? You habitually aim to outscore or outperform most of your rivals most of the time.

How Strategic Blends With Your Other Top Five Strengths

STRATEGIC + DELIBERATIVE

As you move toward a destination, you consider every possible route and anticipate every potential obstacle.

STRATEGIC + RESTORATIVE

Your ability to see and willingness to consider all available options allow you to bring creativity to your problem-solving efforts.

STRATEGIC + ACHIEVER

If at first you don't succeed, you try again. If you try again and still don't succeed, you consider your options and try one.

STRATEGIC + COMPETITION

Contests can be physical or financial, but your victories are conceptual as you outwit and outguess your opponents.

Apply Your Strategic to Succeed

Think ahead to gain perspective.

- ☐ Take time to fully plan your path forward. While you easily see patterns where others see complexity, it is important to make time to envision these alternative scenarios.
- ☐ Practice explaining your decision-making process before talking with others. Doing this ensures people know you have considered different options and opinions to inform your decision.

EXECUTING

2. Deliberative®

What Is Deliberative?

People with strong Deliberative talents are careful and vigilant. Everything may seem in order, but beneath the surface, they sense many risks. Rather than avoiding these hazards, they draw them out into the open so they can identify, assess and ultimately reduce each risk. Thus, those with strong Deliberative talents bring a thorough and conscientious approach to making decisions. They take care to consider options, thinking through the pros and cons of each alternative. To them, making the correct choice is more important than the time it takes to do so. They see life as something of a minefield. Others may run through it recklessly if they so choose, but those with Deliberative talents take a different approach. They identify the dangers, weigh these risks' relative effect and then place their feet deliberately. They walk with care.

Why Your Deliberative Is Unique

These Strengths Insights are personalized based on your CliftonStrengths results.

Competition

Because of your strengths, you generally present yourself to others as a no-nonsense person. People soon figure out you prefer to work or study by yourself.

Driven by your talents, you customarily remain silent rather than join conversations that involve the sharing of intimate or personal information. You generally try to change the topic altogether. When your attempts are unsuccessful, you are likely to excuse yourself from discussions about the upbringing, finances, problems, physical conditions, or mental health of yourself and other people.

By nature, you might approach certain areas of your life in a determined manner and with an air of earnestness. Perhaps you prefer to think things through before speaking or taking action.

It's very likely that you are choosy about the people you call "friend." You make sure you know what makes an individual singular, distinct, or special. You regularly detect subtle differences and nuances — that is, slight or delicate variations — in the personality of each individual you meet.

Instinctively, you offer verbal feedback and positive reinforcement that is equal in measure to people's accomplishments. Even though you praise sparingly, your words echo in the minds and hearts of recipients. When you compliment individuals, they have no doubt they are truly worthy of recognition.

How Deliberative Blends With Your Other Top Five Strengths

DELIBERATIVE + STRATEGIC

As you move toward a destination, you consider every possible route and anticipate every potential obstacle.

DELIBERATIVE + RESTORATIVE

You can deal with problems if you have to, but when you anticipate a problem, you can actually prevent it from happening.

DELIBERATIVE + ACHIEVER

While you work with intensity and stamina, you don't want your work to be hurried. Doing things quickly can lead to poor results.

DELIBERATIVE + COMPETITION

Your victories are often the result of making fewer mistakes. By anticipating what could go wrong, you can prevent it.

Apply Your Deliberative to Succeed

Take time to assess each situation — then act.

- ☐ Set aside time each day for yourself. Your thoughtful approach when considering options gives you the foresight to make wise decisions
- ☐ Think through the advantages and disadvantages when making important choices. To you, making the correct choice is more important than the time it takes to analyze the alternatives.

3. Restorative™

What Is Restorative?

People with strong Restorative talents love to solve problems. While some are discouraged when they encounter yet another breakdown, this energizes those with strong Restorative talents. They enjoy the challenge of analyzing symptoms, identifying what is wrong and finding the solution. They like bringing things back to life by fixing them or rekindling their vitality. In short, they bring courage and creativity to problematic situations.

Why Your Restorative Is Unique

These Strengths Insights are personalized based on your CliftonStrengths results.

By nature, you routinely acquire knowledge or skills when your aim is to deliver better outcomes. You have an abiding interest in fixing things that are broken. This probably inspires you to enroll in subjects that relate to your job or area of study. You usually are eager to apply your classroom experiences to real life situations.

It's very likely that you enjoy working independently to improve in areas where you struggle to succeed. Conquering your shortcomings probably gives you much satisfaction.

Because of your strengths, you usually offer people useful suggestions about what needs to be fixed, upgraded, renovated, or done better.

Chances are good that you guide people by offering them your advice and suggestions. You probably tell them about areas in which they would be wise to enhance, upgrade, or expand their knowledge or skills. You prefer to point out deficiencies. Then you help individuals eradicate — that is, remove or wipe out — all traces of deficiencies. You probably use this “fix it” approach on yourself, too.

Instinctively, you participate in conferences, seminars, or classes when ideas are exchanged about how to make things better. A natural talker, you enjoy telling others about the upgrades you have made. You probably emphasize different ways you increased efficiency.

Your ability to see and willingness to consider all available options allow you to bring creativity to your problem-solving efforts.

RESTORATIVE + DELIBERATIVE

You can deal with problems if you have to, but when you anticipate a problem, you can actually prevent it from happening.

RESTORATIVE + ACHIEVER

For you, a good day is getting everything on your to-do list done or fixing something that is broken. A great day is when you do both.

RESTORATIVE + COMPETITION

One of your primary strategies for victory is identifying flaws and mistakes and working to reduce or eliminate them.

Apply Your Restorative to Succeed

Identify simple problems with big potential for improvement.

- ☐ Volunteer to help with quick fixes for issues you notice. While a simple fix may be easy for you to see, it may be elusive to others when contending with the same problems.
- ☐ Be patient when addressing complex situations with many components. Acknowledge that fully restoring such processes can take time.

EXECUTING

4. Achiever®

What Is Achiever?

Achievers have a constant need for attainment. They have an internal fire burning inside them. It pushes them to do and achieve more. People with strong Achiever talents feel as if every day starts at zero. By the end of the day, they must accomplish something meaningful to feel good about themselves. And “every day” means every single day: workdays, weekends, holidays and even vacations. If the day passes without some form of achievement, no matter how small, Achievers feel dissatisfied. After finishing a challenging project, they rarely seek with a reward of a rest or an easy assignment. While they appreciate recognition for past achievements, their motivation lies in striving toward the next goal on the horizon.

Why Your Achiever Is Unique

By nature, you probably work diligently, persevering to the very end. You are gratified when people tell others you are a competent, trustworthy, and accomplished individual.

Chances are good that you motivate your friends with your passion for moving ideas from the talking stage to the action stage. Your dedication to various projects rallies numerous individuals to work alongside you.

Because of your strengths, you do much more than just try to live up to your commitments. You persist working until you can deliver on your promises. This certainly enhances your reputation for being trustworthy, reliable, and dependable.

Driven by your talents, you exert a lot of mental and physical energy to test your talents, knowledge, and skills. You are highly motivated to work harder when comparisons are being made between your outcomes and the results produced by others.

It's very likely that you routinely reduce elaborate or intertwined ideas, processes, legal documents, and/or action plans to their basic elements. As a result, people usually turn to you for plainspoken, easy-to-understand explanations.

ACHIEVER + COMPETITION

Your drive to complete things comes from within, and your drive to win comes from comparing yourself with those around you.

Apply Your Achiever to Succeed

Use a scoring system to keep track of all achievements.

- ☐ Display metrics that matter in a place where you can see them often. The visual measurement of your productivity will encourage you to keep making progress toward your goals.
- ☐ Put personal achievements on your scoring system. This will help you direct your busy energy toward family and friends and work.

INFLUENCING

5. Competition®

What Is Competition?

Competition is rooted in comparison. For people with strong Competition talents, their performance is their ultimate yardstick. When they look at the world, they are instinctively aware of other people's performance. They aspire to be the best and will work hard to excel — especially when compared with others. It's not about the effort; it's about the win. Regardless of effort or intention, even if they reach their goal, their achievement will feel hollow if they did not outperform their peers. They need to compare. If they can compare, they can compete, and if they can compete, they can win.

Why Your Competition Is Unique

These Strengths Insights are personalized based on your CliftonStrengths results.

It's very likely that you are enthused about being declared the very best. The experience of winning likely means much more to you than any monetary reward.

Because of your strengths, you often tackle assignments with great enthusiasm and speed. Your "Let's just do it right now!" attitude causes many of your friends to pitch in and work alongside you. They probably share your desire to capture topmost honors and first-place titles.

Driven by your talents, you are hardwired to compare your performance to that of others. You always want to know the score. You are exhilarated when you realize you have triumphed over all other contenders.

Instinctively, you typically are friendly and responsive to people, especially when doing so positions you to capture the top prize and the championship title.

By nature, you traditionally practice using your skills and knowledge. You regularly expand your knowledge base in selected subjects. Not surprisingly, you aim to increase your chances of being the winner in a variety of contests. These rivalries can either be obvious to all involved or known only to you.

Apply Your Competition to Succeed

Identify scores against which you can measure your achievements.

- ☐ Measure your success in your most important tasks. Ask those around you for feedback to ensure you are not sacrificing relationships for the sake of winning.
- ☐ Find someone you admire to use as a standard for success. Comparing your progress against theirs will give you a measurement for winning you can be proud of.
